

Two Days on Combinatorial Optimization: A Bridge Between Rio and Niterói
December, 11th-12th, 2003

Two Days on Combinatorial Optimization: A Bridge Between Rio and Niterói is a meeting featuring invited and contributed talks by conference participants. Talks on any topic in combinatorial optimization, discrete mathematics and theoretical computer science are welcome. It is largely "self-serve", meaning that there is no registration fee, you must get your coffee at a nearby cafe and most often you need to introduce yourself when it is your time to speak.

Venue: Centro de Tecnologia- Bloco G, sala 122 - COPPE/UFRJ - Ilha do Fundão - Rio de Janeiro, Brasil

Invited speaker:

Pierre Hansen, Montreal University (Canada)
Exploring Graph Theory with AutoGraphix and Clustering for data Mining

Confirmed speakers:

Celso Carneiro Ribeiro, PUC-Rio/UFF
Eduardo Bardosa Uchoa, UFF
Jayme Luiz Szwacfiter, UFRJ
Lilian Markenzon, NCE/UFRJ
Luiz Satoru Ochi, UFF
Nair Maria Maia de Abreu, PEP/UFRJ
Nelson Maculan Filho, UFRJ
Roberto Diégues Galvão, UFRJ

To be confirmed
Marcus Vinicius Soledade Poggi de Aragão, PUC-Rio

Abstract Submission: Fifteen minutes contributed talks (Portuguese or English) are invited. For those who intend to present a contributed talk, abstracts are to be submitted by November 21, 2003. Abstracts must be sent in LaTeX format to nair@pep.ufrj.br with the subject name Bridge Abstract.
